PREFACE

IN this Index, we present the names of over 50,000 persons who have left property for their missing kindred, or who have been advertised for in numerous newspapers in all parts of the world as Heirs at Law, Next of Kin, Legatees, or in some other capacity, to prove their claims to money, estates or other "windfalls."

Those who casually thumb through these pages can have no adequate idea of the immense amount of time and effort it has taken to collect information relating to these thousands of cases.

For year after year, this agency has been in receipt of hundreds of newspapers, all of which had to be carefully read and clipped for our files. Thousands upon thousands of notices have been sent us by the leading clipping bureaus of the world, and it has taken endless time and work to sift out the wheat from the chaff and file away those of any importance.

Thousands of reports have been received from our correspondents in all parts of the world. Slowly and carefully our readers have plodded through scores of family histories, picking out the vital information, that our records might be as near perfection as possible.

In addition to all this office work, much information has been obtained at first hand by numerous trips about this country and many trips abroad. The information has been gleaned from every possible source.

And all this work has been spent merely on "getting" the facts. By no means the least part of the labor has been spent on arranging and handling this information after it was once secured.

With the receipt of each new item, our files had to be examined to see if there was any other matter pertaining to that special case, and to guard against duplication.

The reader may appreciate the immense work that this filing and indexing has entailed, when we state that the matter to be filed has varied in shape from small newspaper notices all the way to large 50-page wills and testaments, and extended family trees.

And even now this immense task is not complete. Obviously it will never be complete as long as deaths are occurring and properties are daily being left to new claimants. This matter is pouring in on us every day.

But it is necessary that we stop in the midst of our time-engrossing efforts and place in the press the results of our many years work, because of the great demand for the last edition of this book, which has about taken every volume from our shelves.

Because of the fact that new information is pouring into the office just as we write these pages, we impress upon the reader the importance of getting in touch with us, if he fails to find the name he is seeking in these pages, because we have thousands of other cases on file. We may give him the very data he desires, even though it is not listed under the headings on these pages.

And for another reason the reader should write us, if he fails to find the case he is looking up—it may be possible that it is listed under a different heading than that which he has consulted.

Without a doubt, the present edition of this work is the most complete index of its kind that has ever been published in the world. Compared with this, our former editions are very incomplete, indeed.

In no other part of the world is there so great a need for a work of this sort as in the United States and Canada. While many of these claims are American, yet the great majority relate to foreign estates, the descendants of which have emigrated to this side of the ocean and lost track of the old family estates. Getting into the hands of Americans as it does, we believe this book will be the means of settling up many unclaimed estates in England and other parts of the world.

Originally we undertook to publish the results of our work in this shape at the solicitation of clients and friends, who believed that we might be doing a great service to the American public, many of whom have family traditions that money was left them abroad in former generations, by giving as complete an index as possible of the names of all unclaimed estates and lost heirs.

We have become firmly convinced that the Index performs such a service, and it is our ambition to see a copy of this book in every home in the land.

In view of the immense labor entailed in gathering and the big expense in presenting this information to the public, we feel that all fair-minded readers will agree that we are deserving of the small fee we ask for presenting all the information we have relating to any case herein listed.

Thanking our friends and clients for the support they have accorded us in the past, and trusting that this volume will meet with the reception to which we think it deserving, we are

Very respectfully,

INTERNATIONAL CLAIM AGENCY.

EXPLANATION OF THE INDEX

NUMBERS of advertisements appear daily in the newspapers calling on Heirs at Law, Next of Kin, Legatees, Missing Friends and others to come forward and claim money and property of all kinds and amounts in value. These notifications are often unseen by the parties interested. For many years we have kept copies of these advertisements, and the names of parties wanted are listed in our Index. Hence, if you want to know whether you have ever been advertised for, simply look at the Index and see if your name is listed.

Occasionally a person hears from friends that they have seen his name advertised for, but they have forgotten the name of the paper and the date. To save yourself worry, look up your name in the Index, and if it is not there, write us about it, as it may have come in to us after this book went to press. We will not charge you for this extra service, unless you desire a copy of the advertisement.

There are thousands of families in this country who have traditions that some ancestor in long years gone by had left them money or property. If such be the case, they will probably find the ancestor's name listed in the Index, otherwise they should write us for further information.

According to a recent report, there was $350,000,000.00 lying in the Suitors' Fund in Chancery Court of England, in the shape of unclaimed funds and estates. There are other millions of unclaimed funds lying dormant in India, Australia, Germany and other countries.

Much of this money rightfully belongs to Americans, whose forefathers came to this country years ago and lost track of their ancestors. Look up the names of all your ancestors, as far back as you have them, by referring to the Index.

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

INTERNATIONAL CLAIM AGENCY, PITTSBURG, PA., U. S. A.
Full and authentic copy of advertisement relating to any name $5.00.

We not only supply data concerning persons advertised for and unclaimed funds, etc., but are prepared to make searches at the Record and Chancery Offices, and summaries of Proceedings. Copies of wills, letters of administration, family records, birth, marriage and burial certificates obtained. Terms on application.

Every day all the year round Attorneys, Executors and Administrators of Estates advertise in the daily papers for persons who are entitled to large sums of money by will or inheritance. In many cases these persons never see or hear of the advertisement, consequently, know nothing of the fortunes waiting for them, and very many live and die in obscurity and poverty who should be wealthy. This book has been compiled to afford any person whose name occurs in it an opportunity of obtaining a copy of the advertisement, together with the name and date of the paper in which it appeared.

The book also contains the names of cases to which funds stand to the credit of in the British Court of Chancery, as reported to the House of Commons by the Paymaster General. There are millions of dollars unclaimed in Chancery belonging to various persons scattered over the civilized globe. A complete list of such cases, reported by the Paymaster General of Great Britain will be found in this book. Full particulars as furnished by the Court of Chancery relating to any name on that List, can also be obtained from us.

If your name occurs in any of these Lists, we would strongly advise you to obtain a copy of the advertisement or particulars as furnished by the Court, when you will be enabled to judge whether you are entitled to any property or not. If you are not interested in any name, it is quite possible you will find the names of some friends who are, and you would be doing them a great favor by calling their attention to it, or notifying us of the fact with their addresses.

The Lists of names herein are prepared entirely from original matter, and copies of the advertisements from which the names are taken are on file in our office.

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

INSTRUCTIONS

For Obtaining Copies of the Advertisements or Information Referred to in this Index

It is advisable to use the order blank in the back of this volume.

Write plainly the name that appears in the book, and your own name and address.

The fee for a full copy of Advertisement is $5.00.

It is useless for an inquirer to ask us if he is the person referred to, or if the person advertised is his ancestor. He must decide that himself.

We always try to return the information by return mail, but the writer should not expect this, as it takes time occasionally to gather the data together. We answer as quickly as we can.

There is no fee payable for answers to inquiries.

Address all inquiries, relating to copies of advertisements, with cash to:

COUSIN OF J. C. SIBLEY SEARCHES FOR HEIR

(Pittsburgh Press, Nov. 9, 1910)

Denver, November 8.—After 25 years Benjamin Sibley, wealthy manufacturer, artist and globe-trotter and a cousin of ex-Congressman Joseph C. Sibley of Pennsylvania, has come 10,000 miles from Sydney, Australia, to Denver to find the son and daughter of his dead brother and leave them his wealth.

W. F. Sibley came to Denver in 1880 and died here a few years later. He left a daughter, Clara, and a son, Joseph, and it is for this niece and nephew that Sibley is searching.

Upon arriving in Denver the first thing Sibley did was to look in a directory for his nephew's name, and the fact that it does not appear did not discourage him. He inserted advertisements in the newspapers and believes he will get some trace of his relatives.

NOTICE

NO AGENTS.

As some persons are representing themselves as our Agents, we hereby caution the public not to pay fees to any person, but to send direct to our Office, at Pittsburg, Pa., as we have NO AGENTS whatever authorized to receive fees.

CAUTION.

We hereby caution the public against unscrupulous persons representing themselves to be in a position to supply copies of advertisements relating to the names in our book at nominal prices. Our INDEX TO ADVERTISEMENTS has been compiled at great expense and labor extending over a period of many years.

The advertisements relating to names in our books cannot be supplied by any other persons.

It must, however, be clearly understood that, with the exception of the cases which have already been investigated we do not guarantee that the money or property to which the advertisement or other information relates is unclaimed, or is identical with the person inquired for, but every effort is made to be as correct as possible.

"We are enjoined not to hide the discovery of blessings found by the way, but to pass them on from friend to friend."

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

CONVINCING NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS

On the next few pages, we present a number of interesting newspaper clippings, relating to lost heirs and unclaimed estates.

Thousands of legal clippings are posted up in our files, and indexed in the various Indexes further on in the book.

Hence in many cases, the person sending in the five dollar fee for information regarding ancestors or friends will be supplied with extensive and valuable facts. In some cases, however, the information in our possession is much more limited.

On page 25, under the heading "Fifty Millions in Chancery," it will be noted that in a period of three years, ending May 31, 1908, there were distributed from the Court of Chancery, England, the sum of $500,000.00, which was divided among about 200 claims.

On page 26, appears the interesting account of a claim that was paid after a lapse of 478 years, and another claim for $8,000 that was paid by the Court of Chancery to a young lady, whose great, great granduncle had died in 1780.

These facts tend to show that the Chancery Court of England is ever ready to pay out just claims, on presentation of the proof that the claim is legal, and that it matters not how many years or how many centuries have elapsed since the funds passed into the hands of the Chancery Court.

The ease with which unclaimed estates are settled is illustrated on page 30. In the first article appears an advertisement, calling on the heirs of Robert McClune, who died in Pittsburgh, to come forward and present their claims. The second article, published a few months later, narrates how Mr. McClune's widow established her claim by means of a photograph and marriage certificate, and was promptly paid the fortune, amounting to $15,000.

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

HEIR TO $10,000 LOST

UNTIL WILLIAM FARVER IS FOUND, $50,000 IS TIED UP.

A little fortune of about fifty thousand dollars is awaiting owners in Braddock, Pa., because of the absence of one of the heirs. On October 20, 1906, William Farver, a retired army officer, and an owner of extensive farming lands in Braddock township, died, leaving an estate valued at $50,000 to his six children. No division of it can be made until the missing son, James Howard Farver, for whom search is being made, is located.

The missing heir was born in Braddock, where he grew to manhood. He was last seen there about two years ago and then is said to have gone to some small town in West Virginia, fell in love with a minister's daughter and was married.

On January 11 another heir, Theodore W. Farver, died, leaving but five to get the estate. The children among whom it will be divided, exclusive of the missing son, are: William and Albert Farver, Mrs. Colbert and Mrs. Lloyd, all of Braddock.

UNCLAIMED MONEY

FORTUNES FOR THE ASKING FOR PEOPLE WHO WILL NOT ASK.

There are many fortunes waiting to be had for the asking, but missing heirs have failed to respond to the alluring advertisements holding out "something to their advantage."

The list for 1906 has been quite as large as usual, and tucked away in these little announcements in the newspaper "agony" columns are many hidden romances.

No response, for instance, has been made to inquiries for persons entitled to £5,893, part of the residue of the estate of James Trotman, who died in 1859, bequeathing the property to one Edmund Thomas Browne.

A sum of £6,000 is divisible among the children of James and Joseph Heath, of Cheshire. Walter Hawkes, who left for New Zealand in 1886, is entitled to property; and the children of Matthew Bayley, formerly of Mile End, may participate in a legacy of £1,000.

Charles M. Bell, who was at Cape Town in 1862, is also missing, as are John and Edward Hanley, who left Norfolk for Australia fifty years ago. Information is required of Emily W. Leedham, of Quebec, and George Leedham, who lived at Crewe in 1880.

Among other persons wanted for "something to their advantage" are Samuel and Francis Sneade, who left for America fifty years ago; John Vicars, who was a soldier in 1840; J. T. Wilcox, formerly a dentist at Leeds; George Collett, of Birmingham, and afterwards of Liverpool; Edward R. Allen, of Queensland in 1899; William Larkin, who left Dublin in 1865; William Pridham, of Exeter in 1831; Amanda S. Jenkins, last heard of as a pianist at a hotel in Yorkshire; and Henry Shaw, who wore a shade over one eye, and was last heard of at Manchester.

BIG BUCKS ESTATE

MANY CLAIMANTS FOR WHADDON ESTATE REPORTED WORTH MILLIONS.

A claim has been made to the ancient Whaddon Hall Estate, Stoney Stratford, Buckinghamshire, by the members of a family named Clements, who reside in Greenheys, Manchester. Mrs. Clements, who is a widow, claims to be the last of the Selby family, who formerly possessed the property, her maiden name having been Mary Selby. But there are many more claimants. Keen interest is being taken in Manchester amongst families bearing the names of Selby and Lowndes, and there have been references to family Bibles, birth and marriage and death certificates, in order, if possible, to establish a connection with the Bucks families of Selby and Lowndes. The present owner of the property, the value of which is variously estimated at from £3,000,000 to £6,000,000, is Mr. William Selby-Lowndes, J. P., the well-known Master of Whaddon Chase Hunt. Another claim it is stated, will be vigorously pressed by two brothers named Jackson, from the Stockport district. They possess a complete copy of the will of Thomas James Selby and a number of extracts from parish registers. Other claimants reside in Reddish, and others, again, in Oldham.

In consequence of a letter which has just arrived from New Zealand, the Bray friends and acquaintances of Captain Newman, who was for many years resident in the town, are making inquiries in the hope of discovering his present place of abode, and to communicate to him the news that considerable wealth awaits him at the Antipodes. For six or seven years he has not been heard of by his Bray acquaintances, and all memory of him had become practically lost, when, a few days ago, a letter was received by a resident announcing that Mrs. Newman, who spent the last seventeen years in New Zealand, died recently, and that her husband, if still alive, should make himself acquainted with the contents of her will.

DEAD MISER'S GOLD

Found dying amidst the most squalid surroundings, a miser was discovered to be in the possession of considerable wealth. At a meeting of the Chertsey Board of Guardians letters were read from persons claiming relationship with the miser, John Hoare, who died in the infirmary after being found on a heap of straw, with 220 sovereigns concealed under some putrefying sausages in an old basket in the same room. Hoare also had over £3,000 in the bank, and is said to have owned other property. One writer inquired if there was a will, and another asked why Hoare was treated as a pauper. The relieving officer said that Hoare was removed to the infirmary on his own application, and that an accumulation of 27 or 28 years' filth was in the house. A guardian remarked that people were getting affectionate.—The Chairman: There is money about.—The Board decided to claim 2s. per night maintenance fees and other small items of expenditure.

FORD'S RELATIVES WANTED

Carefully stowed away in a little pouch under his arm, Bank of England notes to the value of £90 were only brought to light when the mortuary keeper at Clerkenwell was preparing the body of Thomas Ford, 70, for a post-mortem examination. He had lately lived at Rydon-crescent, Clerkenwell, and at the inquest it was shown that deceased, a widower, who was an engineer, had been in the employ of one firm for 39 years, and that of late he had told friends that although he had two sisters living he did not know where they lived, for they were not on friendly terms. A lodger entering his room found him lying in bed quite dead.—The coroner's officer stated that on searching deceased's clothing he found £5 in gold, 4s. 6d. in silver, and 9½d. in bronze, together with a slip of paper bearing a lot of numbers.—William Oliver, the mortuary keeper, stated that he went to prepare the body for the purpose of a post-mortem examination, and under the right arm he found a little pouch tied with a boot lace that went around the neck. On cutting this off and examining it, he found it to contain one Bank of England note for £50, and two Bank of England notes for £20, and some scraps of papers that had evidently to do with some bank. The coroner was informed that it was believed that the sisters of deceased were dead.—The coroner explained that the property would be kept by him for a certain time, and if relatives did not come forward to lay claim to it it would be handed over to the Crown.—Dr. Kellard proved that death had resulted from the rupture of a blood vessel on the brain, and the jury returned a verdict accordingly.

WINDFALL FOR IRISH COBBLER.

John Walsh, shoemaker, and his sister, Margaret Walsh, of Castlebar, Ireland, have received information that they will within the course of a few months receive a sum of money amounting to £19,000 left by a relative who died some years ago in America. Since their relative's death they have been prosecuting their claims, and it is stated they have now succeeded in being declared the rightful owners of the property of deceased.

GUARDIANS' CLAIM ON PAUPER HEIR.

At a meeting of Navan Board of Guardians, Mr. P. Collins in the chair, the master reported that an infirm inmate named Patrick Gaffney, resident in the workhouse for the last nine years, had become heir to £390. Replying to some of the guardians, the master said the money was lodged in the bank, and Gaffney had been in the house for twenty years, but only continuously for the last nine years.—Chairman: It is only fair that we should make a claim against him for maintenance.—Clerk: The Statute of Limitations will bar us, excepting for the last six years.—The Board ordered that a claim be made on Gaffney for the full average cost of his maintenance.

HEIR TO $200,000 TO BE A FARMER

"No Auto and Lobster Supper Route for Mine," Says Inmate of Poorhouse

WOMEN WRITE TO HIM

MANY WOULD WED ILLINOIS BENEFICIARY OF INDIAN-APOLIS UNCLE.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 4.—Sitting upon the steps of the McLean County Poor Farm, clad in the rough garments of the day laborer, Albert Newhouse, an inmate of the institution for paupers, talked soberly and without emotion of a fortune of $200,000 left him this week by the death of his uncle, Oliver Newhouse, of Indianapolis, Ind.

"I am going to Indianapolis, claim the money and farm, and then devote my life to tilling the soil," he declared.

"I suppose that I could blow in the whole sum in a few months via the automobile and lobster supper route but not for mine. When I find a woman to suit me I will marry her and try to prove a useful citizen of the community," he continued.

Since the announcement early this week that Newhouse had been transformed from a pauper into a rich man, he has been the recipient of letters from many points, some of them from women suggesting matrimony for themselves or their daughters. A lawyer from Kansas City suggested some judicious investments, promising to increase his fortune. A letter from Brooklyn, N. Y., came from a Baptist missionary society stating that they were engaged in rescue work for just such unfortunates as Newhouse before his inheritance came. They suggested that he send them a portion of his inheritance, and promised to place it to good advantage in building a house which would be used for a shelter for men in hard luck.

St. Louis Woman Writes Him.

A St. Louis woman writes sympathetically, stating that her daughter has been afflicted with rheumatism, just like Newhouse, but she was cured by a judicious combination of electricity and olive oil. She was also aided, she said, by keeping away from the doctors. The writer urged Newhouse to embark on the olive oil and electric route to health and happiness, and incidentally remarked that her daughter, who was a sweetly charming creature, a decided blond would be willing to meet him personally and tell him just how to apply the treatment to get the best results. A postal card followed the letter, urging prompt action.

There is a buxom widow in Springfield, Ill., who is very anxious to keep house for Newhouse, and, although she did not say so, aid him in spending some of his fortune. She wrote him as follows:

"In reading the morning paper I see where you have fallen heir to a fortune of $200,000. Now, in case you need a house-keeper you would find me a No. 1 woman. I am a widow, twenty-nine years old, and with one daughter, thirteen years old. We are almost penniless as you were before you got your fortune. Am a Protestant, and if you need my services, answer at once."

Other letters of a similar character are being received daily by the beneficiary, but he is not treating any of them seriously.

AFTER IMMENSE ESTATE IN WEST

HILLMAN HEIRS FROM THIS SECTION ORGANIZE TO FIGHT FOR BIG PROPERTY.

Believing they are the rightful owners of 600 acres of land in Madison and St. Clair Counties, Ill., across the river from St. Louis, Mo., much of which is improved and estimated worth from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, 70 persons met yesterday at the Seventh Avenue Hotel and formed a permanent organization known as the Hillman Heirs' Association. A fund of $2,000 will be collected from the members of the association to make the preliminary examination of the titles of the property they claim.

Miss Hannah Hillman purchased land grants given by the Government to Frenchmen who fought in the American Revolution, according to George T. Atkins, secretary of the association, and at the time of her death, in 1826, had bequeathed a life interest in these grants to her father, James Hillman. Because of the small value of the land at the time the heirs of Mr. Hillman paid little attention to the disposal of the grants at the time of his death.

Mrs. Mary Byers of Homestead Park, Pa., inaugurated an investigation six years ago that resulted in the formation of the heirs into a permanent body. James Hillman of McKeesport was elected president and George T. Atkins of Elizabeth, Pa., secretary and treasurer. J. J. Brophy, a title clerk in Pittsburg, will start the search of the titles.

Among those interested are N. S. Patterson, Dr. Jane Blanchard, Mrs. Mathilda J. Patterson, Charles H. Hillman, William A. Hillman, J. H. Hillman, John C. Boyd, William Boyd, Rolla Douthett, Pizarro Douthett, Mrs. H. M. Lynn and J. V. McCormick, Pittsburg; Dr. N. J. Bigley, Homestead; Mrs. Amanda Wilson, Elizabeth; W. H. Atkins, Charleroi, and Walter H. Mitchell, Boston, Mass.

MONEY FOR THE HEIRS FROM WEALTHY MEN

Offers of $1,000,000 each by two millionaires of New York and Philadelphia to further the claim of the Hillman Heirs' Association to 700 acres of land just outside the city limits of St. Louis were made known to the heirs at their meeting in a parlor of the Seventh Avenue Hotel yesterday afternoon.

The meeting was called to discuss the work done by J. Brophy, of Knoxville, retained by the heirs, who returned yesterday from St. Louis after six weeks of record searching. He said he had examined about 1,000 titles.

The entire 700 acres is worth about $30,000,000, and after a clear title is proven will be worth $20,000,000 more. Five railroads run directly through the center of the property, and many factories have been built on it. Several hundred acres are occupied by the Union Stock yards, and the balance is covered with dwelling houses. The negro village of Brooklyn, in the northwestern part of St. Clair county, occupies part of the tract.

The natural heirs of Susannah Hillman Osborn, brought to Illinois as a child in 1802 by Hanna Hillman form the association. The offer of financial assistance from two wealthy men whose names would not be divulged was gratifying to the heirs. Members of the association denied that any heirs had signed off their claims to the millionaire backers, but admitted that a certain percentage of the tract recovered would be turned over to them in case money was borrowed.

As soon as the title is settled the matter will be taken up by the Fidelity Trust company for the heirs.

FIFTY MILLIONS IN CHANCERY

In answer to a question in Parliament by Mr. Jeremiah, Mr. McVeagh, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that the total accumulations in the Suitors Fund and other funds in the Court of Chancery, on May 31 this year were as follows:

Stock	£47,509,050	9	8
Money on deposit.....	1,138,507	9	2
Cash	1,416,305	1	1
Total	£50,063,862	19	11

The amount of funds in Court on September 1, 1907, which had not been dealt with, other than by accumulation of dividends, was £1,110,579 13s. 5d., distributed over 3,400 separate accounts, one-half of which do not exceed £150 in value, and only about one-twentieth exceed £1,000. This amount cannot be described as wholly unclaimed, as it includes many sums of which the ultimate destination is known, but which are retained in court for various purposes. Many funds have been lodged by trustees under the Trustee Relief Acts, and accumulate until the Court is asked to decide upon the ownership. Amounts are frequently paid out under orders of the Court to individual claimants. In the three years preceding the publication of the last list, upwards of 200 funds, amounting to about £100,000, were so distributed. The total amount of unclaimed stock transferred to the National Debt Commissioners to March 31, 1908, was £4,384,981, of which there had been retransferred to claimants at that date £3,447,741, leaving still unclaimed £937,240. The total amount of unclaimed dividends to March 31, 1908, was £3,725,056, of which there had been reclaimed at that date £1,918,525, leaving still unclaimed £1,806,531.

Mr. Sydney Buxton, the Postmaster-General, gave Mr. McVeagh the interesting information that during the last ten years money orders worth £33,100 and postal orders worth £150,790 had been issued but never presented for repayment.

SETTLE SUIT 478 YEARS OLDCLAIMANT TO $8,000 GETS THAT, TOO. BENEFACTOR DEAD 109 YEARS.

London, February 22.—(Special Cable.)—The Probate Court this week heard arguments as to why it should presume the death of C. S. Pultey, who was last heard of in 1780. He has been advertised for periodically during the last 109 years, but never responded and his great, great grandniece, as the only surviving next of kin, submitted to the Judge that it would not be premature now to presume he is dead, so she might get $8,000 left by him and ever since lying in Chancery Court.

Judge Gorell Barnes took the risk of granting the lady's petition. This, however, is not the record of lengthy litigation, as a suit pending between the local authority of Freimar, in Gotha, and the Millowners was settled this week after 478 years.

OIL WORKER'S ROMANTIC STORY OF SUCCESSION.

From Wishaw, Lanarkshire, comes the romantic story of an oil-worker who is taking steps to establish his claim to an estate in his own county, valued at £50,000. According to the claimant, on July 15, 1861, the then owner (a captain in the Bengal army) died. He also owned certain Indian tea estates, and he left his estate to his heirs male. It reverted to his cousin a captain of Marines, and father of the claimant. The parent was ill, however, and within a few months he died, when his son was only 11, his cousin's widow having predeceased him by a bare month. The estate next fell into the hands of a member of the female branch of the family, and they still hold it. The claimant, who was brought up by his grandmother, states that his interests were not looked after, and, when 16, he was placed at work in an oil works in the East of Scotland. He replied to an advertisement inquiring as to his whereabouts. As a result, he says an aunt called upon him, and submitted the alleged proofs of his title. She took him to the mansion, where the occupier is supposed to have entered into an agreement that, if he were allowed a life rent, the claimant's rights would be acknowledged at the occupier's death. This agreement, the latter now says, was not fulfilled. The claimant contends that he holds this document in his possession, and that the occupier died some years ago without leaving such provision, and the claimant has since been prosecuting his claim. He lives with his wife and seven children in a row of workmen's houses in Wishaw, and is a quiet respectable man.

£1,500,000 FOR A DURHAM FAMILY

Windfalls of inheritance come alike to the highest and the lowest. Only a week ago we chronicled one for the King. Today we bring to mind the phenomenal one which came the way of the Richardson family of Tow Law, near Bishop Auckland, Durham, the oldest surviving male member of which is Mr. Joseph Richardson formerly host of the Inkerman Hotel, Tow Law, now a railway and land magnate of the Argentine Republic. Much scepticism was observed locally when news first came to hand that an uncle of the Richardsons, credited with being a Croesus had died in the Argentine without issue. The doubters about the great fortune which the nephews and nieces were to inherit were quickly silenced by the proofs of heritage which were quickly forthcoming. Next conjecture became rife as to the probable amount of the windfall, but in the wildest flights of fancy none placed it at £1,500,000 in English money, personalty, and estate value. Railways, mines, and farms are included in the valuable properties left by the deceased uncle, and the increment thereon is now being enjoyed by the members of the Tow Law family. Mr. Joseph Richardson is now on his third visit to the Argentine, where one of his sisters kept house for her uncle. Another sister lives at Chopwell, and the other beneficiaries under the distribution of the magnate's wealth are the children of a brother who died in Australia.

Big Fortune for Poor Somerset Family.

Fortune has come to a Frome family named Pryor, who are in humble circumstances, and are now elated at their unexpected good luck. They have just received news that they are the inheritants of a fortune of about £50,000, and a large area of land in New Zealand. Walter Edwin Pryor, the eldest of three brothers, living in the town, received the first intimation of his good luck in a letter informing him that the legal representative of his benefactor was on his way to England from Bristol (N.Z.) and may be expected in Frome within the next few days.

—William Pryor is a casual labourer on the Great Western Railway; while a second brother, John, is a farm labourer; and the other, Walter, finds employment as a labourer at a local printing office. Some years ago an uncle emigrated to New Zealand, and it is supposed that it is under his will that they have benefited, although nothing has been heard of him since the death of their father some fifteen years ago. News of the fortune arrived some weeks ago, but as the communication was addressed to their father, the brothers returned it to the post office.

Search for Relatives of an Irish Millionaire.

Search is being made in the north of Ireland for the heirs of a man named Harrison, who left Portadown about a century ago and died in London, after amassing a large fortune. This fortune has now increased, it is said, to £2,500,000, which is lying in the Court of Chancery, awaiting distribution among the next-of-kin who can prove their relationship to the millionaire. It is stated the male branch of Harrison heirs is extinct, and among the parties who would benefit on the female branch of the family are persons from the Portadown district named—

HENRY,
WILSON.

The Rector of Seagoe, the Rev. James E. Archer, D. D., who has studied the historic associations of Portadown and its surroundings, has been communicated with in the matter, and has been engaged in making diligent search among the church records and family archives with the view of furthering the claims of all parties concerned. It may be mentioned that the Harrison family were large landed proprietors, and held a high social position in Portadown. Inquiries are being made for a Major Robinson, who was born near Portadown, and was conversant with the family history. He would now be about 80 years of age, and before his retirement from the Army had seen 25 years' foreign service.

LOST HEIR TURNS UP; GETS $25,000Sister Dies Leaving Big Estate—Court Grants Brother's Claim.

(By Associated Press to The Dispatch.)

WORCESTER, Mass., May 23.—Although he had not seen his sister, who supposed him dead, for 38 years, William Venna, a hostler of San Mateo, Cal., was able to prove himself the only heir to her $25,000 estate, and today Judge William T. Forbes of the Probate Court allowed his claim. The estate involved was that of Mrs. Jennie S. Miller of Athol, who died on July 2, 1908, leaving no known heirs.

The Court appointed a public administrator to take charge of the estate at the time, but recently a stranger appeared and entered a claim to the property. In his petition he described himself as William Venna, otherwise known as William McVenna and William J. McIlvaine.

Venna and his sister were born in Ireland and both came to this country before the Civil War. Venna worked as a hostler in Boston until the war, when he enlisted, and his sister removed to New York, where he last saw her in 1872. Venna removed to California, and the sister later married an Athol man. She told her friends in Athol that as her brother had not been heard from for many years she supposed he was dead.

£2,500,000. Messrs. Cohen and Dunn, solicitors, supply the following official statement regarding the distribution of Mr. Barnato's millions:—"Mr. Harry Barnato has, by his will, bequeathed in trust for his daughter, Mrs. S. G. Asher, and her children, the sum of £1,000,000, together with a life annuity to Mrs. Asher of £10,000. The testator also leaves to his trustees the sum of £250,000 for the purpose of founding a hospital or other charitable institution in memory of his late brother, Barney Barnato, and his late nephew, Woolf Joel. The trustees have absolute discretion as to the application of the fund, and the fullest powers as to the equipment, endowment, and management of the institution. After various legacies to relatives, the testator leaves his interest in the firm of Barnato Brothers to his nephews, Messrs. J. B. Joel and S. B. Joel, and the residue of his private estate to Mrs. Asher." Mrs. Asher is married to the son of the late Dr. Asher. Mr. Asher was, up to the date of his marriage a few years ago, private secretary to Lord Rothschild. The widow, Mrs. Charlotte Barnato, was provided for in her husband's lifetime, and it is understood that in the will she is left the house in Upper Hamilton-terrace. The valuable contents of the house were already her property. Some of the clauses of Mr. Harry Barnato's will may be expected to be the same as those in the wills of his brother and nephew, both of whom made special provisions in the same terms with regard to the business of Barnato Brothers, in the profits of which Mr. "Barney" Barnato's three children are by their trustees very largely interested. He left £250,000 of his share of the capital of Barnato Brothers in trust for each of his children to accumulate the profits until such child is 21 years of age, when the partners are to decide whether they will take the child into partnership or pay out his or her share of the capital, which is then to be invested in Government securities. Mr. Woolf Joel left also £750,000 upon like trust for his uncle Mr. "Barney" Barnato's three children, for whom the profits of £1,500,000 in the business are thus accumulated, and it was supposed that Mr. Harry Barnato would also leave £750,000 upon like trusts. Mr. "Barney" Barnato left £25,000 to his brother's daughter Lillie, now Mrs. Asher. Mr. Harry Barnato was a comparatively young man when he died. His brother "Barney" was 44 years of age at the time of his death, and Mr. Woolf Joel had only attained the age of 34 years when he was killed at Johannesburg. The latter's estate was valued at £1,226,659.

A NEW CLAIMANT FOR THE ESTATE OF MISS WHITEMan Living in Wisconsin Presents a Will Alleged to Be That of the Bloomfield Woman.

Following upon the publicity given to the contents of the strange will of Miss Laura Heemens White, who was found dead last January in the house at 343 Main street, Bloomfield, where she had lived alone, many fantastic claims have been received by the Fidelity Title and Trust Company. Little attention has been paid to most of these attempts to establish a claim to the estate estimated at several hundred thousand dollars, but the latest claimant is so confident of his success that he has already purchased $20,000 worth of land on the strength of his prospects.

This claimant is Carl Fechner, of Racine, Wis., whose claim is almost as remarkable as the will of the woman he claims to have been his aunt. He asserts that he is the Major Robert Hall White, referred to in the will as the sole beneficiary if he enters a claim within 10 years, although Major White was well known to many persons, and if living to-day would be nearly twice the age of the Wisconsin claimant, and was a brother of Miss White. When asked about Fechner's claims, President C. S. Gray, of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, said this morning:

"We do not intend to pay any attention at all to this young man's claims, for we can only consider them as ridiculous under the circumstances. He must be a strange man if our information is correct, as he has invested $20,000 to be paid from the money he hopes to secure from the White estate. The money he owes must be paid in long before the estate can be legally settled in this State.

"His is the least credible of all the many claims we have received since Miss White's death. He is much younger than the Major White mentioned in the will, and his claim that he had an agreement with Miss White to assume the name of Robert Hall White on condition that she would leave her fortune to him would be hard to prove.

"Miss White was a cultured woman of excellent education, yet the will he sends us is evidently the work of a more or less illiterate person. The will is useless at any rate as it antedates the one found at the time of Miss White's death.

"This claimant's only recourse is to take action in the courts as we will heed his claims no further. Major White was well known here and went to South Africa and has not since been heard of."

The city of Wilmington, Mass., may be called upon to defend its title to 2,654 acres of city land, claimed by the heirs of Carl Christopher Springer and valued at about $120,000,000. Eight thousand heirs who believe the land rightfully belongs to them declare that it was leased to the city back in the Seventeenth century and that the city has not only failed to renew the leases from time to time but has neglected to pay for the privilege of using the land. However, the heirs have been unable to disclose records showing that the leases were ever legally executed for the books in which the records should have been destroyed and three pages of the index which refers to the alleged records are missing.

GENEALOGIST PRESSES THE SUIT

To date more than 8,000 descendants from the Springer family have had their names entered on the genealogical table as persons who should share in the division of the vast estate. Genealogist Scribner, of Amesbury, Mass., is husband of one of the heirs and it is due to his energy that the case is being pushed. He plans a meeting of all the heirs this fall at which a definite plan of action will be formed. In his possession is what purports to be a map of the city of Wilmington, on which is indicated the land alleged to have been leased to the city at various times by the Springer forebears. The property indicated lies in the heart of the business district, and undoubtedly is worth the $120,000,000 claimed for it, whether the Springer claims are to be upheld or not. The second most precious possession is a large facsimile of the Springer coat of arms, which Mr. Scribner, between his more strenuous work of establishing claims, is copying and distributing among the heirs, who, he says, have the royal blood of Charlemagne, Alfred the Great, Henry the Fowler, Otho the Illustrious, "even the Tsar and Grand Duchess of Russia" in their veins. The coat of arms is the customary shield, divided into four sections on two of which appear the figures of the ibex. The whole is surmounted by a knight in armor, which he declares to be the figure of Sir Knight Waldenburg, another of the illustrious ancestors of the family. The combination of the anticipation of a great fortune and the coat of arms, together with Mr. Scribner's great energy in working up the case, have already greatly interested the 8,000 heirs.

ACCUMULATED WEALTH OF CENTURIES

The tremendous value of the estate to which such vigorous claim is being laid, and which makes the contest unique almost in the annals of history, is solely due to the length of time which it has been unmolested and allowed to accumulate. The original founder of the Springer fortune was Carl Christopher Springer, a member of the Swedish colony of Wilmington and a trustee of the old Swedish church. In his dual capacity he is supposed to have leased his property and that of the church to the city, though on what terms or for what length of time is not known. His sons and grandchildren did likewise, it is alleged. Springer, after his return to Sweden, is supposed to have died, leaving a sum of money which has accumulated and increased till the total reaches the stupendous amount of $80,000,000, while the value of the land lying in business Wilmington is now worth half again as much more.

PROPERTY AWAITS HER

Mayor Van Wyck to-day received from the State Department at Washington a copy of a letter from Walter J. Hoffman, United States Consul at Manheim, Germany, who is trying to find the proper claimants for certain money in his possession.

Consul Hoffman writes to the State Department under date of December 10 that various sums of money within his Consular jurisdiction await the claims of heirs who are now residents of the United States. The Consul says: "The first instance relates to the death in Pforzheim, June 16, 1898, of the widow of Theodore Maytholer, nee Gerwig. Two half sisters are believed to be in the City of New York, one Lesitte Gerwig, married to a Mr. Wiedermaier, the other, Marie Gerwig, wife also of a Mr. Weidermaier.

"The second instance relates to the death in Karlsruhe, on August 25, 1898, of the widow of the Rev. Karl Sutter, by which property is left to the following named persons, whose addresses are not at present known: Ernest Sutter, aged 46, last heard of as a resident of Chicago, not heard of for 25 years; children of

AN UNEXPECTED FORTUNE

Devonshire has been truly called the garden of England. One of its beautiful villages inspired Goldsmith's immortal "Sweet Auburn;" and lovers of nature, wearied with the din and strife of life's incessant struggle, have delighted to wander at ease through the luxuriant fern-clad woods, along the quiet, drowsy lanes, and in the deep, calm, sleepy dells. In no other spot of England's lovely land do the birds sing so sweetly or the flowers give out such exquisite perfume. Here, throughout the long summer day, the bees hum drowsily on from flower to flower, sipping lovingly the sweet juice which forms their wealth, and which the flowers so lovingly yield. What a contrast to the fierce contest man wages with his fellow man for his wealth! In a small village in the heart of this beautiful country stands a laborer's cottage. It is a picturesque old place, in the midst of a large garden, such as we still find in some rural districts surrounding the humble homes of our agricultural laborers. The front of the cottage is covered with woodbine, honeysuckle, and roses, through which two little lattice windows peep out upon the passers-by, while one gable end is completely hidden by a large, luxuriant grape vine. Until quite recently this was the abode of an old laborer and his family, who, though thrifty and industrious, had been all their lives extremely poor. Life to this poor man had been a desperate struggle, and many a time the meal consisted only of vegetables from the garden which he cultivated so carefully. Hard work had been his portion all his life, and it never entered his head that the world contained for him aught beyond the scant wage due to his hard and cheerless toil. All his relations, so far as he knew, had been poor, and there was no one from whom he could expect a single penny. Happening, however, to come across a list of names of persons who had been advertised for to claim money and property in Chancery, he was greatly surprised and very much agitated to find his own name in full; and being a man of more than ordinary intelligence, for his class, he at once communicated with the publishers of the list, which has resulted in establishing his claim to an enormous fortune, left nearly 100 years ago! If it had been his good luck to have seen this list years ago, what a life of misery would have been spared to him and his family! Locked up in the Court of Chancery there is nearly £100,000,000 in money and property belonging to the people, which the Chancery paymaster would be only too glad to get rid of if the owners would but apply for it in the right way. The rightful owners of all this wealth are scattered through all classes of society, and many a toiler of both sexes in the professions, the counting-house, the factory, the warehouse, the shop, and the field is entitled to come forward and claim a fortune. There is no longer any mystery about this great mine of wealth.

THE WOODMAN'S WINDFALL

A woodman named Robson, living at Hexham, Northumberland, has just succeeded in establishing his claim to a quarter of a million money, now vested in the Chancery Court. It seems that in the early part of last century a wine and spirit merchant named Robson married a Miss Walker, of Corbridge, and started business in High street, Manchester, when that street was in the heart of the old town. The lady died in Manchester without issue, and so did another lady to whom Mr. Robson was subsequently married. The whole of his wife's fortunes, therefore, reverted to Robson. From the death of his second wife to old age he lived alone and retired from business, keeping a man and a woman servant only. The servants seem to have conspired together to obtain the fortune of their employer. Foul measures were adopted, and one morning the old man Robson was found dead, having been murdered in the cellar. His watch and all the money on his person were taken, but the murderers got nothing more. The servants went off together out of the country, and were never heard of again. There being no heir, the whole of the fortune went into the custody of the Court of Chancery, where it has remained for 141 years, and now amounts to over £250,000. About three years ago, however, the poor woodman mentioned above discovered that he was a direct heir of a brother of this Mr. Robson, of Manchester, his grandfather having been brother to the wine merchant. The woodman made inquiries, and satisfied of the validity of his claim he laid it before the Court of Chancery, and this morning, it is said, he heard from his counsel (Serjeant Parry), that his right to the fortune was yesterday fully established, and on the fourth day of January next he will receive this enormous windfall.

A NICE WINDFALL

A few days ago a man named N. Nolan, who lives at Rock Ferry, and is in poor circumstances, received the gratifying intelligence from a Liverpool solicitor that his only brother, who went to Jamaica some years ago, had died and left him a fortune of £17,000 in cash, besides a large amount of property in that island. The news at first was scarcely credited by the poor fellow, but subsequent inquiries confirmed the fact, and arrangements have been made for him to proceed to Dublin to substantiate his claim and receive the money. His daughter, Jane Nolan, is at present engaged as a servant at the Mitre Inn, Preston, but she will leave with her father.

A LOST HEIR

The following story of a lost heir is told by a Tasmanian Paper, the Cornwall Chronicle: "About seven years ago, in the City of London, a cheesemonger died, leaving cash to the tune of £100,000 to be quarreled over, fought and disputed for, by the reputed heirs at law. Advertisements were inserted at different times in the English newspapers, and many a claimant a la Tichborne was forthcoming. The lawyers were, however, not satisfied that any of the numerous claimants were the right men, and what has just transpired proves they were correct in their judgment, as the right man has turned up in the person of the deceased cheesemonger's brother, George Hutley, who arrived in this colony some forty years ago. He was discovered by Mr. H. Stevens, a Victorian barrister, splitting up in the ranges in that colony, taken to Melbourne, shipped on board a steamer, and brought to Launceston, and then taken to Hobart Town, where he was identified as the veritable George Hutley who arrived in Tasmania some forty years ago. After all the necessary documents are procured to prove without a shadow of doubt the man's identity, he will proceed to England to claim his inheritance.

A CAUSE CELEBRE IN AUSTRALIA

A curious case was recently before the Supreme Court of the Australian province of Victoria. A short time back died intestate, in the neighborhood of Melbourne, a brewer named Graham, leaving a widow and family and real and personal property amounting to between £70,000 and £80,000. The widow applied for letters of administration. An attorney who had, or professed to have, a claim on the estate entered a caveat. On the hearing of the cause it came out that the deceased had been twice married—the first time to a Jane Lancaster, at Beverly, in Yorkshire, on the 7th of September, 1820, and that by this wife he had two sons, John and William, who never left England, and are still living in their native place in very humble circumstances. At what time Mr. Graham emigrated did not appear but it was shown that in 1840 he was married again in Melbourne, to a Mrs. Crook, an apparent widow, with a family by her first husband, who was formerly in the Ordnance Department in Hobart Town. One of these children, a Mrs. Cozens (a married woman), lodged a caveat against her mother (Mrs. Graham), obtaining letters of administration, alleging that at the time of her intermarrying with Graham in 1840 her first husband, Crook, was alive, an inmate of the lunatic asylum at Hobart Town and that he lived for several years afterwards. Recriminatory affidavits were filed on behalf of the mother denying the facts alleged against herself, and alleging that the daughter's opposition was merely for the purpose of extorting money; that she, the daughter, was herself in the position charged on the mother, and that her first husband, a man named Weatherly, was still alive. Be this as it may, it very distinctly appeared from correspondence and certificates forwarded from England by a Mr. Champney, a solicitor instructed by Graham's younger son at Beverly, that Graham's Beverly wife did not die until 1860; so that when Graham went through the marriage ceremony with Mrs. Crook in 1840 the proceeding was null. The above stated facts would probably never have come to light at all, but for the circumstance that Graham, being in bad health, wrote home to his English sons about a month before his death, one of whom, seeing a fortune in the wind, at once instructed Mr. Champney to communicate with the father on their behalf. But the father died before Mr. Champney's letter reached the colony. The Beverly sons seem to be the only next of kin, and therefore they will apparently be lifted straight from penury into the possession of some £40,000 each. A case so rich in bigamy is not often met with.

A RELIGIOUS BEQUEST

A great stir is being made in Scotland just now about the administration of a fund left for religious purposes some time since, called the Ferguson Bequest, and the Glasgow Herald gives interesting particulars of the individual by whom it was devised. Mr. Ferguson had no claims to the title of philanthropist till he was on his death-bed. His chief pleasure in life seems to have consisted in amassing an immense fortune, and something of niggardliness marked his conduct in that not very amiable pursuit. When worth hundreds of thousands he could squabble like a beggar for a sixpence.

He was altogether too grasping to enjoy his wealth, but he seems also to have been of too shrewd a disposition to be able to feel all the raptures of the miser. He used to say to his friends: "I am a poor rich man—burdened with money, but I have nothing else." He was in the act of signing a cheque for ten thousand pounds when he was struck with paralysis, and the cheque remained after his death with only half of his signature appended. He remembered on his death-bed the poor relations whom he had forgotten during his lifetime, and he made amends for his neglect of the interests of religion and charity by some noble bequests. Upwards of a hundred private persons, some of them already in good circumstances, shared in his wealth, but the sudden transformation which took place among many of them, from poverty to affluence, were both astonishing and amusing. Day laborers, masons, grocers, and in one case, a poor hawker of fish, became possessors of thousands. More than half a million of money was thus disposed of. Mr. Ferguson's great religious bequest somehow seems like a lump sum paid to Heaven for oversights, during a long, intensely worldly, and even mean sort of life. He was not what is called a religious man. Some have asserted that he was a member of the Church of Scotland; but the Herald believes it would be more correct to say that he had not been within the walls of a church for forty years before his death. When near the close of his life his stoical indifference "to these things" broke down somewhat, but too proud to go to church, he actually asked a minister of Irvine, who was at the time preaching on Sunday evenings in the streets, to come opposite his door and deliver his sermon there. And this "poor rich man," wrapped up in shawls, sat in the lobby and listened to it. This was the man who left about £400,000 for the spread of the Gospel, who made it a condition that the trustees should be communicants of churches which they represented, and who was specially careful to note in his will that the books of the fund should be balanced every year, on the 31st of December, except when that day fell upon a Sunday.

An authentic copy of the advertisement calling upon the legatees of Mr. Ferguson will be supplied for $5.00.

FIGHTING FOR AN ENGLISH ESTATE

By the death of Mrs. Caroline Selina Aldridge at Johnstown, Pa., last Friday, her relatives have been stirred anew to make a fight for an English entailed estate believed to be worth millions of dollars and including a title and a whole gallery of ancestors. All the Aldridges say they have documents to enforce their claims as heirs of Baron Aldridge, who is supposed to have died in England in 1860.

Mrs. Caroline Elizabeth Eaton, of Hartford, Conn., says a dispatch to the Herald, has announced that she will do all the fighting for herself and the other claimants, among whom is a 16-year-old boy, a grandson of Mrs. Aldridge and the son of Richard Aldridge, who died several months ago in Atlantic City, N. J. The boy is the heir in the main line. Another heir is Frederick Aldridge, a cripple—the second eldest brother of Mrs. Eaton's brother.

According to the story of Mrs. Eaton, there was a certain Lord Aldridge, who owned a large estate called Headington Hall, in the parish of St. Clements, Oxfordshire, England. There were several thousand acres of land and many tenants. There were also several factories owned by Lord Aldridge. The land is supposed to have increased in value recently by the discovery of mineral deposits. Mrs. Eaton says that rents and other revenues have been accumulating for years.

Mrs. Eaton's parent did not please his father and was told to leave the house of his ancestors. He was Richard William Edward Aldridge. He made several unsuccessful attempts toward a reconciliation. After the death of Lord Aldridge, the American Aldridges allege, an overseer of the place, Tyrel Knapp, went to live in Headington Hall. The Aldridges here assert that Knapp obtained possession of the estate and used its immense resources to defend it from the claims of the rightful heirs.

Mrs. Eaton says her mother made frequent attempts to get her property, and made so determined an effort she received several offers to compromise. She spurned all these and sought to raise more money to enforce her claim.

Mrs. Eaton declares that after Baron Aldridge's death her mother was subjected to persecution. Her allowance was cut down and eventually, on some pretext, stopped altogether. Being a woman of resource, Lady Aldridge determined that she would make a living for herself and children till her eldest son should come of age, when he would assert his claims to his father's title and estate. Leaving her children in England, she went to Philadelphia and started a millinery shop. Then she sent for her children to educate them. After the Civil War she moved to Johnstown and continued her business. In the flood she lost all her property.

One daughter married Charles Adams, of Waterbury; another is Mrs. Jennie Dick, of Camden, who was the youngest child, and then there is the crippled son Frederick, in Johnstown. Mrs. Eaton is the eldest of the children.

Mrs. Eaton says that she has received assurances from influential friends in England who would be glad to see the family get its rights, and that they have proffered financial aid. Mrs. Eaton lives in an apartment in Pearl street, Hartford, Conn., and ekes out her husband's salary by doing lace work.

From Atlantic City, N. J., comes the grandson, Charles Aldridge, a claimant. His father left certain papers, which are supposed to establish his claim. The boy, his mother and his younger brother, William, live with W. M. Souder, who married one of the daughters of Mrs. Aldridge. Mr. Souder said yesterday to a correspondent of the Herald that he had assumed charge of the documents which had been left by the son of the supposed baron.

A LARGE INHERITANCE

A petition has been presented to the French National Assembly by Mdle, Rosalie Cotton of Epinal, in the Vosges, praying that the Minister of Finance may be directed to acknowledge her right to the succession of the Sieur Thierry, a French citizen who died in Venice in 1676, and whose estate, having been lodged in the treasury of Venice, was removed thence to France by general Bonaparte, who informed the Directory, under date 11 Floreal, an V., that the Venetian Senate had handed to him the succession of Thierry, then amounting to 20,000,000 francs. The amount is said to be now 100 millions of francs, or about four millions sterling. Jean Thierry was the son of a shoemaker of Chateau Thierry, and left his father's house at the age of 14. He was left a fortune by one of the companions of his adventures, after which he settled in Venice, and made a will, leaving his property to his brothers and sisters. Some 300 people have claimed this property, and the First Chamber of Paris has now the claim of Mdle. Cotton before it.

Upon his decease, and subsequent knowledge by his nephews of the magnitude of the estate for a man of so humble a calling, his remaining and nearer relative, his sister, was cited to appear in the usual way. This she did not do, however, and the President, in granting letters of administration as prayed, remarked that the sister's non-appearance was not the least remarkable feature in the case.

A substantial fortune, says the Western Morning News, is now going begging for want of a claimant. James L. NEVER SAW FATHER--GETS HIS FORTUNEPRETTY YOUNG GIRL'S WEALTH, AMOUNTING TO $2,000,000, CAME TO HER ALADDINLIKE.

New York, Feb. 8.—Miss Dorothea Edgarita Crouse, a young woman of 18, has come to New York to make her home, and has asked the sanction of the Supreme Court for an expenditure of the $100,000 to purchase and furnish a house in which to locate her retinue of servants and large personal establishment. In three years she becomes absolute mistress of a fortune of over $2,000,000, but the possession of that sum will hardly be a novel experience to the young woman, as she has controlled an income larger than that enjoyed by the average professional man or man of business accounted wealthy, since she was a child of 8, with unrestricted command over its expenditure.

Servants paid from her own purse have waited upon her word or nod, and her coachman and footman have saluted when she gave her orders while driving in her smart equipages.

As a child she has patronized the most fashionable dress-makers in this country and Europe, and said her lessons to a governess and tutors of her own selection. When she chose, she had only to give her orders, and maids and men servants packed trunks and boxes, and with her personal retinue accompanying her she was ready to travel at home or abroad wherever her fancy dictated.

Miss Dorothea's mother has been her constant companion and mentor, but the income which supported their establishment was Miss Dorothea's.

The Aladdinlike story of the child's life is in its last chapters. She becomes "grown up" in the eyes of the law in three years more, and will be looked upon as a very wealthy woman who has enjoyed unusual advantages and has made good use of them in fitting herself to occupy a position to which her wealth entitles her.

But Miss Dorothea Crouse comes back to the country of her father a sufferer from a disease of the spine, and her money cannot give her the full enjoyments of health and pastimes dear to the young. She has come here to establish her home because she is tired of traveling abroad, and she has asked the courts for a sufficient share of her accumulated surplus over her original fortune to give her a home in which she may reside permanently. t ago after an extended residence abroad, and their friends found that the rich little girl had grown into a rich big girl of sweet disposition, not at all spoiled by her wealth.

Miss Crouse and her mother came to New York a few days

Twelve years ago D. Edgar Crouse, the wealthiest man in Syracuse, died, and the fortune he left was estimated at $5,000,000. He had posed as a bachelor. He left a will making liberal bequests to friends and employes, and directed that the residue of his estate go to his "next of kin."

A number of cousins and more distant relatives imagined themselves the heirs to the large fortune. But Mrs. Eula Henry Potulicka, who was a beautiful girl and daring esquiretienne of Kentucky some years before, advanced a claim on behalf of her 6-year-old daughter, Dorothea Edgarita Crouse, for the estate of Mr. Crouse, saying that Mr. Crouse had married her in London under the name of "Wilson," and that Dorothea was born of that union. A compromise was effected by which Dorothea was allowed $2,000,000 from her father's estate, to be held in trust for her by the New York Security and Trust Co. until she became of age.

The golden life of the little girl began immediately after this compromise when Dorothea, then almost 8 years old, was allowed by the Surrogate's Court an income of $7,500 a year, a thousand dollars for each year of her life, to support and educate her.

A governess, maid, cook, butler and coachman were engaged for the child, horses and carriages were bought that she might enjoy drives in the park. She could have all the toys that her heart desired, so many frocks that she could not count them, and if she wished expensive sweetmeats she could buy such large quantities that neither she nor her little friends could begin to eat them all.

Dorothea began to travel and spent much of her time abroad. Her education was begun in England and continued later in Berlin, Brussels and Paris. In these places she added to her knowledge of languages, music and art, and she proved a clever and earnest pupil, and soon became a very accomplished child for her years.

When she was 12 years of age the court was asked to increase her income because she had outgrown the first allowance. An increase to $12,000 annually was authorized.

The added amount permitted Miss Dorothea to make a proportionate increase in the size of her personal establishment, as she was then able to spend $33.95 daily without exceeding her income.

On this income the 12-year-old child arranged her expenditures in the following way:

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

INTERNATIONAL CLAIM AGENCY, PITTSBURG, PA., U. S. A.

Living and traveling expenses	$ 3,000
Carriage	1,400
Education	3,500
Governess and servants	1,800
Clothes	1,500
Spending	800

This arrangement has evidently been considered satisfactory by the girl, for the courts have been asked for no further increase in her income. She is probably content to wait until she is 21 years old to control an income which now amounts to $36,000 a year, and then if she finds that the home she wishes to purchase now for $100,000 is inadequate she can spend as much as she pleases for a new one.

Dorothea was 10 years old when it was found that a tendency to lateral curvature of the spine had developed. The most eminent physicians in Europe were consulted, but could hold out no hope for a cure. The disease itself is not necessarily fatal, but it diminishes the enjoyment of life in a very marked degree as it develops, and may lead to a lasting deformity of the body. Miss Crouse and her mother hope that in a restful life which the girl may lead in her own home in New York a great improvement and possibly a cure may be effected.

Recovery of Money from Chancery after 138 Years

AN UNEXPECTED INHERITANCE.

Robert Robson, a woodman at Hexham, over sixty years of age, has established, in the Court of Chancery, his right to funds which have been in the custody of the court for 138 years, and are said to amount now to nearly £250,000. In the early part of last century a brother of Robson's grandfather having married an heiress, a Miss Walker, of Corbridge, went to Manchester, where he began business as a wine and spirit merchant. She died without having issue, as also did another lady to whom her husband was subsequently married. The widower was murdered by "some person or persons unknown," and his property, then large, went into the Court of Chancery, where it has remained until now.

A ROMANTIC STORY

A Penzance correspondent states that in 1832 William David Brown, a fisherman, of Newlyn, near Penzance, was drowned, and the same night his wife died of cholera. They left two orphan lads James and Peter. The latter fought at Alma, Balaclava, and Inkerman, was at the siege of Lucknow, and through the Kaffir war. James has just died in America, worth £400,000, leaving the bulk of his property to his widow and son, but he has bequeathed £18,000 and some shares and other property to Peter Brown. The brothers had not met since before 1850 and did not hear from each other for twenty-five years.

£5,000 GOING BEGGING

A paragraph in the Daily Mail, headed "£5,000 Going Begging," will probably be the means of bringing £5,000 to a Manchester lady.

Mr. C. White Mortimer, the British Vice Consul at Los Angeles, Cal., last week made inquiry through our columns for the whereabouts of a Miss Constance Mills, the daughter of a Major Mills, known in America as "Bulwer," who died, leaving £10,000, half of which by that law of the country belonged to the undiscovered daughter.

A double surprise of grief and gladness was occasioned to Mrs. Constance Woodeson, wife of a Manchester architect, living at No. 25 Railway Road, Urmston, while reading the Daily Mail on Thursday. It conveyed to her tidings of her father's death, and further information that, under his will, a legacy of £5,000 is awaiting her in California.

About eight years ago Miss Mills says, her father, Major H. F. Mills, disappeared from England. None of his friends knew where he had gone, and the last letter his wife received was dated from "St. Stephen's Club, London." The Major was of a restless, roving disposition, and for some time, except for casual meetings by acquaintances in different parts of the world, his family heard nothing of him. He ultimately settled in California, and, according to information sent to England by the British Vice Consul at Los Angeles, he recently died, leaving an estate worth £10,000, and a will in favor of a Mrs. Bulwer.

Under a curious provision in California law, Mrs. Woodeson, his only child, is entitled to half the estate.

Major Mills formerly held a commission in the Devonshire Militia, and he is said to be distinctly connected with the Lytton family. That accounts for his adoption of the name of Bulwer while in America. He has a brother holding a prominent position in Salford. Mrs. Mills is a daughter of the late Mr. Richard Aspdon, who was a prominent Manchester citizen.

DEATH OF A MISER

An inquest was held at Well, Yorkshire, on Tuesday, by the county coroner, on the body of Richard Scurrah, blacksmith, aged 68 years. The deceased, who lived in a hovel near the village, not having been seen for some days, the house was broken into by the police, who found him dead in bed. On the premises being examined, upwards of £3,000 was found upon a beam in the kitchen, and mortgage deeds for several hundreds of pounds were also found in an old chest.

A FORTUNE FOR SOMEONE

Inquiries have recently been made to discover the lawful heir to a fortune left by a man named Taylor or Tylor, who made a fortune in the sugar plantations of the West, died some fifteen or sixteen years ago, leaving all his money to his wife. She died within the last twelve-month, leaving her money to Daniel Frost, of Suffolk. The result of the inquiries up to the present has been the discovery of two persons, either of whom may be the heir. One is Joseph Frost, of Ipswich, in the employ of the Dock Commission, and living at the small round house at the end of the Promenade, a nephew of Daniel Frost, of Ipswich, who had some relatives of the name of Taylor, who went across the Atlantic forty-eight years

CLAIMANTS WANTED

The London Gazette of December 31, contains lists of sums held by the War Office on account of the personal estates of various soldiers deceased, which are published with a view of inducing the legal claimants to the amounts to apply for them. The Morning Advertiser remarks: "We have more than once pointed out that so long as the said lists are only published in the Gazette and the Army List, the object of their publication will certainly not be generally answered. The only people who take in the Gazette or see the Army List are the very ones who cannot by any chance be the claimants to the outstanding sums. One list, for instance, is published in Tuesday's Gazette for the fifth time. The amounts referred to in it are not large, we admit; but such sums as £45 15s. 9d. and £32 7s. 4d. would not so long remain unclaimed, we think, were it known throughout the country that they were due to the next of kin of John Quirk and James Powell; whilst Private Michael Banner, of the Sixty-third Regiment, and Christopher Nelson, of the Nineteenth, £14 16s. 8d., and £42 15s. 6d., respectively. Many more heirs might be found were a little of the unclaimed money devoted to making the lists we refer to more generally known."

DEATH OF A CLAIMANT TO A FORTUNE

The inquiry into the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Mobbs, the claimant, it was stated, to a fortune of £100,000, and who died in consequence of cold and want, was resumed on Wednesday. It was stated by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joshua Mobbs, that the property in question included the Shepherdess Fields and the Britannia Fields, and extended from the south side of the City Road to near the New River at Highbury, and eastward as far as the Kingsland Road, or some parts farther, and comprehended a considerable portion of Hoxton. It was called the Wenlock Manor estate. The copy of the will (produced), would show that Mr. Williams Mobbs, and his elder brother, James, were bequeathed the entire property by their father, Mr. John Mobbs, of Islington. Witness's husband, Mr. Joshua Mobbs, was the son of Mr. William Mobbs. Although the will was made in 1790, it was not proved till the year 1856. The executors named in it—John Farmer and John Davis—kept it concealed, and brought up the children, contrary to the direction of the testator, in a poor way; afterwards apprenticing them to a shoemaker, and all the while keeping them ignorant of their rights. In 1839 they seemed to have acquired some inkling of them, and commenced law proceedings; but the matter went from the hands of one solicitor to another, and great delay and expense was incurred in satisfying the Probate Court that, notwithstanding the long lapse of time, the will was genuine. Since 1856, when probate was at last obtained, delay and expense had been incurred in consequence of the parties having the wrongful possession of the property having other necessary documents in their own hands and ample means to defend themselves, while the claimants were poor and without proper advisers. Mr. Mobbs added that steps were in contemplation with the object of filing a bill of discovery of these documents. After some remarks by the coroner, that he could not go into the question of heirship of the property, the jury returned a verdict of "Death from pulmonary apoplexy." The value of the property claimed will, it is said, in consequence of the extensive buildings on it, be worth £3,500,000.

OLD "JARNDYCE VS. JARNDYCE" COMES INTO COURT AGAIN

THE FAMOUS OLD LAWSUIT MADE RIDICULOUS IN DICK-EN'S "BLEAK HOUSE," COMES TO LIFE ONCE MORE.

That oldest and most famous of law suits which Dickens described in his "Bleak House" as the case of "Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce," and supposed to have been long since buried forever, has come to life again. The venerable David Jennings, of Montreal, has just obtained permission of the British Chancery Court to re-open the contest for the Jennings fortune of $150,000,000, and the suit now promises to drag its interminable length through another century.

William Jennings, or Jennens, the British iron worker, died intestate in this country 104 years ago, leaving a fortune of $10,000,000. This fortune, which seemed much larger in those days when millionaires were few, proved a curse to every relative of the old man.

Jennings had scores of relatives in England and America, most of them like himself, well on the way to prosperity, but one and all joined in the fight for the great estate until their last cent had been spent in fruitless litigation.

Year after year the contest dragged along before the Chancery Court. As one generation of claimants were removed by time, bankruptcy or suicide, fresh ones sprang up and took their places. Barristers, whose first work had been to assist some older lawyer in the case, lived, grew gray-headed and died all on the same case.

In Charles Dickens's time it was going along merrily, and called forth the "Jarndyce vs. Jarndyce" satire from his pen.

Meanwhile the original $10,000,000 left by Jennings, most of which was in gilt-edged stocks, had gone on increasing, until, at the time that the struggle for its possession was supposed to be finally closed the Chancery Court's return estimated the fortune at the amazing sum of $150,000,000, which amount David Jennings, who is in possession of a perfect mass of evidence to prove his claim thereto, has come to this country to "lift," as Sir Thomas Lipton would say.

It was just about thirty years ago that the Jennings suit ended, the court deciding that the contested millions should remain in Chancery, while Earl Howe, who, by the way, is a direct descendant of Sir William Howe who commanded the British forces in the American Revolution, was left in possession of the rich Jennings property, which his lordship's aristocratic family might be said to have "jumped" immediately after William Jennings's death.

The estate includes Gopsall Hall, in Leicestershire, the roomy residence where Earl Howe recently entertained the King; Acton Place, Aston Hall, the so-called "Penn estates," and a house in aristocratic Curzon street, London. This decision having been reached by the Chancery Court, everyone supposed that the famous case had been settled for always.

For some time, however, there has been a significant activity among the Jennings claimants in this country whose hopes were dashed temporarily by the Chancery Court's decision in Earl Howe's favor. Not long ago one of them announced the discovery of documents throwing an entirely new light upon the case, and there have been other indications that the famous legal contest, upon which it is estimated that over $500,000 has been spent, would soon have to be opened again.

Then came the appearance on the scene of David Jennings, the Canadian claimant, an elderly man who has spent several years already in collecting documents to prove himself William Jennings's lineal heir, and whose claim is thought so well of by certain Montreal capitalists that they are backing him financially in the attempt which he proposes to make to get the Jennings acres and guineas away from Earl Howe.

Soon after his arrival in England, Jennings invaded the public record office, wherein the records of births, marriages and deaths since time out of mind are kept, and there for several weeks he has spent day after day in poring over the musty volumes in the search for further evidence on which to base his claim. He has refused obstinately to have anything to do with professional "searchers."

Whether the man who means to oust Earl Howe has discovered anything at the record office likely to assist him in doing so he declined to state, when questioned the other day, but it is significant that his solicitors now say that they hope to get him a hearing before the Chancery Court before July.

First, however, all the evidence upon which the claim is based—and this means thousands upon thousands of folios of closely written matter—must be read and discussed before a legal luminary called the Master in Chancery, who must decide whether the case is one that ought to occupy the attention of one or two of His Majesty's judges for a time that might exceed that of the first Jennings suit itself.

Hard work and sleepless nights appear to have left their mark on the old man, and when he was seen by the writer he was by no means inclined to straighten himself out to talk.

"I am disgusted," he commenced, "with the way the English newspapers have distorted the facts of my case. They have tried to make fun out of what is a very serious matter, both to me and to Earl Howe. The Earl does not take it so flippantly; I can assure you he understands the gravity of the situation.

"I am receiving many letters daily from all parts of the world, many of them resting their claims on manifestly imaginary foundations. There are claimants from New York, San Francisco, Buffalo, Toronto, New Mexico, Melbourne, Adelaide, Burman, Port Said, Paris, St. Petersburg and even Moscow."

"All claiming to be descendants of the celebrated William Jennings?"

"Yes, but I can, after years of hard work, trace the pedigree of only six out of a possible 300, and these, with two exceptions, live in America—two in San Francisco, one in Melbourne, one in New York, one in Toronto and one in Burmah."

"Are all these 300 contributing toward the cost of the present litigation?"

"Oh, dear, no; they are sending in claims, anticipating a windfall."

"Who is finding the money, then?"

"That is a subject I cannot discuss at present."

Here Mr. Jennings pulled himself up and appeared somewhat angry.

"William Jennings dying intestate, leaving no sons, how have you succeeded to the name of Jennings?"

"A Jennings married into the family and so the name was restored," was the quick reply.

"Do you really expect to win your case?"

"I ought to if there is justice in England."

"You are rather skeptical as to the result?"

"The Court of Chancery is an institution which the lawyers themselves have never been able to understand."

"If you succeed to all this wealth, what do you propose to do with it?"

"I am not so much interested in the money as I am in establishing the claims of my family and ancestors. I am an old man, and money can be of no great value to me."

Meanwhile, according to Mr. Jennings, Earl Howe is "laying low." The Canadian has communicated with His Lordship, suggesting an interview, by which litigation might be avoided, but the earl has not replied. As a matter of fact, Lord Howe has been threatened with eviction so many times before that he is probably getting a bit callous.

His lordship, by the way, is rather a picturesque figure. He is one of the youngest of English peers, and is treasurer to King Edward's household, as well as lord in waiting. But perhaps the earl is best known as a musician. He plays the organ with real brilliancy, and has a magnificent instrument at Gopsall Hall, his famous principal seat.

William Jennings was an aristocrat as well as a man of great wealth. His father had been an aide-de-camp to the great Duke of Marlborough, and he himself had William III. for a god-father, and as a boy, had been page to King George. But he was renowned most of all for his riches, a fortune of $10,000,000 such as his being counted a mighty one in those pre-Rockefeller days.

Jennings had inherited part of his fortune but he more than quadrupled his original heritage by speculation. He had a perfect genius for making investments—for instance, his shares in the Exchequer Tontine, for which he paid $500 each, brought him in $15,000 apiece for many years.

Strangely enough, it was the most trifling sort of an accident which led to Jennings dying without a will, and as a consequence to one of the most lengthy and expensive law-suits in history. Only a few days before his death the old fellow, then ninety-seven years old, went down to his solicitors' office for the specific purpose of drawing up his last testament. When he came to sign it, however, he discovered that he had left his spectacles at home, so he put the will in his pocket and went off, saying he would drop in again soon and close the matter up. A day or two afterward he was dead, and when his clothes were searched the "testament," worthless in law, was found in his pocket.

Up to the time of Jennings's death few people had begun to realize how wealthy he was. It was discovered that he had had property in almost every one of the existing funds, and it had been his habit to leave the dividends on most of his stock to accumulate year after year. He seems to have had money on all sides of him. In an iron chest, which he used to keep under his bed, they found bank notes worth $100,000 and $200,000 more in the shape of newly coined golden guineas.

A WORD TO THE WISE

No person need hesitate to write us because they are poor writers, or because they have no fancy paper to write on. The kind of writing you do and the kind of paper you use are all minor details to us—we are interested only in your message, and not in its appearance. Just so your writing can be read.

In sending money, it is best to send it either by post office or express money order, by draft, or in registered letter. It is unsafe to send large amounts of currency loose in the mails, unless the letter is registered.

We realize fully that such a business as this attracts unprincipled persons, who graft on the credulity of persons in distant places. NO PERSON NEED HESITATE ABOUT WRITING US. We have been in business for many years, and have never had any trouble with clients as yet. This is a legitimate LAW AGENCY. We do not want any person's money, unless we earn it by fair means, and then we are entitled to what we get. Our fees are reasonable—far less than the usual attorney would charge for similar service.

Moreover, all correspondence is treated as sacred. You may confide in us, and we will never betray your confidence. We do not, for instance, sell the names of our patrons to mail order houses. Trust us as you would your lawyer.

As we have said before, we have no agents. If you deal with any person representing himself as an agent of ours, you do so at your own risk. All communications should be sent direct to us.

HEIR WANTED FOR £20,000

(From Umpire, Manchester, England, September 4th, 1910)

A fortune of £20,000, roughly speaking, is awaiting a lucky individual. Mr. Edward M'Gurk, a native of Ulster, who has died at San Diego, California, and left the thousands, bequeathed all his property to his sisters and brothers wherever they might be found. M'Gurk's father, however, appears to have been twice married, and it would seem from recent litigation that the heirs of the first union were not informed of the existence of the estate until some months ago, when the California Courts were being asked to give the estate to the children of the second union.

M'Gurk's father, Felix, was first married in Ireland to Ellen Hollinwood, and settled in county Armagh. Their family consisted of Mary, John, Elizabeth, and Edward, all of whom went to America. Felix, on the death of his first wife, married Annie M'Innis, the children of this union being Michael, Thomas, and Elizabeth. A world-wide search is now being made for John M'Gurk, jun.

He might be fortunate enough to learn of the quest through these columns, and eventually enjoy the fortune which awaits him.

ESTATE OF THE LATE JAMES L. TONER

(From The Pittsburgh Dispatch, November 10, 1909).

Through decrees entered in the Court of Appeals of the United States, Washington, D. C., a number of prominent Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania people secure several hundred thousand dollars from the estate of the late James L. Toner, of Derry, Westmoreland County. By the same decrees the Catholic diocese of Pittsburgh loses this amount of money left to it in a will pronounced invalid in Washington, D. C., as to the Washington real estate involved, but valid so far as the property in Westmoreland County is concerned. The heirs of Toner who secure fortunes by the end of the legal battle in the District of Columbia for 11 years are Mrs. Jeremiah Dunlevy, Isabella M. Ross, Mrs. Josephine Scott, Mrs. Emily Keating, Edward Toner, Margaret Geisey, Mary Bannon, Ann McManamy, Isabella Fisher and William Kelly.

The story of the will reads like a romance and involves Judge Martin F. Morris of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, whose death one month ago ended the litigation brought about through the peculiar construction of two Toner wills. Attorney George E. Reynolds of Pittsburgh, who represented the heirs, left last night for Washington to pay the costs and close up the case so far as the District of Columbia property is concerned. With the ending of that case proceedings are being prepared to begin ejectment proceedings against the Pittsburgh Catholic diocese in Westmoreland County to secure possession of an additional $100,000 or more left by Toner. It is alleged by the heirs here that the Catholic diocese has no right to possession, not having carried out the terms of Toner's will as to the trust involved, after having possession for 11 years. This case will bring out all the interesting points involved in the two Toner wills.

The story of the litigation begins with the death of Dr. J. M. Toner, the most prominent physician of Washington, D. C., in 1896. Dr. Toner left a large estate, some of the realty being in the business district of the capital, estimated to be worth nearly $500,000. Having no family, he left everything to his brother, James L. Toner of Derry, Westmoreland County, who was the last of his line. J. L. Toner was also wealthy in his own right, owning over $100,000 of coal lands alone.

Dr. Toner had a close personal friend, Judge Morris, who was made executor of his will. The Judge came to Cresson with the will the day Dr. Toner was buried, and a few days later J. L. Toner also made a will leaving everything he owned in Washington to Judge Morris in trust, after a few minor bequests to educational and charitable institutions. He divided his own personal estate between St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church in Derry on the condition it had mass at least once a year for the repose of the souls of his mother, himself and brother, the other equal parts to go to St. Vincent's Monastery, Latrobe, on the same condition. Judge Morris was made executor.

Before J. L. Toner died he had some difference with Judge Morris in collecting $60,000 from his brother's estate because Morris had invested it in Washington real estate in his own name. Judge Morris wanted him to take notes and papers for it and Toner refused, taking with him to Washington Attorney James S. Moorhead of Greensburg, former partner of Justice Head of the Superior Court. Moorhead finally effected a settlement of Dr. Toner's estate, but J. L. Toner became so dissatisfied with Judge Morris over the matter that he requested Moorhead to draw up another will, specially revoking the Morris will and giving his entire fortune with the exception of some minor bequests amounting to several thousands dollars to the Benedictine Society to build an industrial school on Toner's farm at Derry, and revoking all former wills.

Important Codicil

In a codicil to this will he provided that if the Benedictine Society would not take the estate to build this school, it was to go to the Catholic diocese of Pittsburg for the same purpose. This will was in Moorhead's handwriting, the other will in Morris' handwriting. He specially revoked the Morris will in the second instrument. The school he provided for was for the training and education of boys to qualify them to perform skilled manual and clerical labor, and was to be known as the Toner Institute. This will was witnessed by but two witnesses, John E. Kunkle and James E. Keenan. Elizabeth Hartley of Tarentum and Jane Hartley Cochrane of New York were also remembered in the codicil, which was also witnessed by two witnesses.

The Benedictine Society knowing that the Pittsburg Catholic diocese would get the property if the society did not, refused to erect the school. Bishop Canevin accepted the bequest for the diocese and took charge of the cash and property in Washington, D C., and the diocese has retained possession for five years. Judge Morris believed the second will was good and permitted the diocese to take charge, but five years later, January 6, 1906, Judge Morris discovered the second will had but two subscribing witnesses, and immediately placed on record, and had probated the first will, drawn by himself, but witnessed properly by three subscribing witnesses, as required by the laws of the District of Columbia, and which would apply to the real estate in the District of Columbia, even if the property and estate in Pennsylvania was not affected and the second will was valid there, which afterward turned out to be the case.

Claim Under Trust

Morris then claimed the Washington property worth several hundred thousand dollars for the purposes set forth in the first will, viz.: "to divide the proceeds among such educational and charitable institutions in the District of Columbia as he (Morris) may deem expedient, in accordance with the wishes of my deceased brother." Judge Morris then entered ejectment proceedings against the Catholic diocese of Pittsburg to oust it, and the decree of the court was against the diocese because it was declared the second will, with only two witnesses, was invalid to carry this real estate in Washington. This did not affect the will in Pennsylvania and the diocese still holds control of about $100,000 of the estate.

This decision as affirmed by the United States Court of Appeals, but just prior to that time the heirs at law and next of kin of James L. Toner, mentioned above, through their attorney, George E. Reynolds, entered the litigation and instituted ejectment proceedings against both judge and diocese, claiming all the estate for the heirs as against both wills. They also instituted proceedings to set aside the probate of the Morris will. While the case was pending in the Court of Appeals Judge Morris died.

According to the construction of the trust Morris could pay the proceeds to "such educational and charitable institutions as he deemed expedient," but he died without declaring these trusts. It was trust property and no one knew what the trust was. On account of this indefinite trust the heirs had a fairly safe case. Attorneys Hamilton & Colbelt and J. J. Darlington of Washington represented Judge Morris in the proceedings, and are the leaders of the Washington bar. They advised the heirs of Judge Morris to allow judgment in the ejectment proceedings under the circumstances.

Now the heirs will attempt to break the Pennsylvania will to recover the Pennsylvania portion of the Toner estate, declaring the second will, which was knocked out by the courts of the District of Columbia because of lack of sufficient witnesses, is also void as to the Catholic diocese because it failed to erect the Toner Institute and carry out the trust after having the money so long. The diocese was not able to carry out the trust pending the Washington decisions, because it did not know what money it would have to invest for the purposes. Judge Morris had transferred his trust to Harold E. Doyle, who was the plaintiff and defendant in the Washington cases instead of Judge Morris, whose name does not appear on the papers. This was an expediency understood by all the parties to the litigation, the Judge being on the bench at the time.

GENEALOGIES OF THE LEWIS AND KINDRED FAMILIES

Among the family trees in our files, is a complete genealogy of the celebrated Lewis families of Virginia, and their related branches.

There are very many Lewis families throughout the United States, mostly of Welsh origin, but all traceable to different sources. This particular genealogy has to do only with the Lewis families of Virginia, which embrace five distinct branches, between whom there is no traceable relation.

If you fail to find the name you seek in the book, communicate with us at once, as we have thousands of names in our office not contained in this book.

INTERNATIONAL CLAIM AGENCY, PITTSBURG, PA., U. S. A.
Full and authentic copy of advertisement relating to any name $5.00.

The heads of these five Virginia branches, and the dates of their immigration to America are as follows: General Robert Lewis, of Wales, who settled in Gloucester county, Virginia, 1635; John Lewis, also of Wales, who settled in Henrico county, Virginia, in 1660; John Lewis, also of Wales, who settled in Hanover county, Virginia, in 1675; Zachary Lewis, also, also of Wales, who settled in Middlesex county, Virginia, in 1692; and John Lewis, of Donegal county, Ireland, who settled in Augusta county, Virginia, in 1732.

Inasmuch as three of these family heads were known by the same given name "John" much confusion has resulted among the Virginia Lewises in tracing back their ancestry. This confusion has only been added to by the fact that the first family head—General Robert Lewis, named his son John, and the latter in turn named one of his sons John Lewis also. Hence some of those who know themselves to be descended from a John Lewis, of Virginia, have been puzzled at times to decide just which John Lewis it was that was their ancestor. In view of all this confusion, a genealogy of this sort is of special value to all who believe themselves in any way connected with the Virginia families.

The first of the above named family heads, General Robert Lewis, left a son John, who married Isabella Warner and built Warner Hall on the Severn River, in Gloucester county, Virginia. Inasmuch as Warner Hall served as the home of this branch of the Lewises for a number of generations, the descendants of General Robert Lewis are generally known as the "Warner Hall Lewises", to distinguish them from the other branches.

One of the most distinguished sons of the Warner Hall Lewises was the military Meriwether Lewis, who served as captain in the U. S. Army in 1800 and 1801, and was appointed in 1801 private secretary to President Jefferson. In 1803, President Jefferson placed Meriwether Lewis in charge of what was afterward known as the "Lewis and Clark" Expedition, the success of which secured for the United States by right of discovery all that territory now embraced in the States of Oregon and Washington and other Rocky Mountain States. Later he was appointed Governor of what is now Missouri.

By marriage, the Warner Hall Lewises were related to General George Washington, the father of his country.

The many leaders that this family gave to the professions, politics, business and the military life, mark the Warner Hall Lewises as one of the most prominent families in Virginia.

Of the three John Lewises, mentioned above as heads of families, the first—John Lewis, of Henrico county, was completely lost track of, even by his own descendents. His identity was discovered in recent years by a genealogist of the Lewis family.

Evidence has been discovered that this John Lewis was a man of some ability and standing in his day, but it is probable that his name dropped out of sight because he died in the prime of life, leaving two young children, their mother marrying a second time.

Not much is known of his descendents beyond the fourth generation, except that there was a dearth of male children in the family, and as the girls married into families of other names, the name Lewis was gradually lost. It is known that John Lewises' great-great-grandson Joseph Lewis emigrated to Kentucky, exact date unknown, but from that time on fact gives way to tradition, so the name of John Lewis, of Henrico county, fades into obscurity.

John Lewis the second family head, born about 1640, emigrated in 1675 to Hanover county, Virginia, where he died 1726. Little is known about this John Lewis personally, although he left an extensive line of descendents, who scattered all over the United States. The genealogy in our files contains a very complete record of this family, from John Lewises' six children down to the hundreds of descendents living to-day.

The third original John Lewis is "Irish" John who came from the county Donegal, in Ireland, in 1732. In contrast to General Robert Lewis, who was an officer in the English Army and brought with him a grant from the crown for over 33,000 acres of land, is the career of "Irish" John, who had to flee from Ireland, in consequence of having slain his Irish landlord.

Notwithstanding this handicap, "Irish" John Lewis proved himself a very worthy and distinguished pioneer in the valley of Virginia. He was one of the first settlers of Augusta county, and indeed founder of the town of Staunton, Virginia.

Coming first to Pennsylvania, John Lewis and his five sons worked their way through a solid wilderness to the region beyond the Blue ridge, where their home became an armed fortress, because of the attacks of the Indians. Amid such surroundings, "Irish" John Lewis and his sons built up a colony of their own, carving out of the forest fame and fortune for themselves and posterity.

The descendants of "Irish" John have been numerous, and in many cases have so intermarried into the other Lewis families that their identity has been lost.

But brief mention can be made of Zachary Lewis, who came from Wales in 1692, because little is known of him. He had a number of children, but nothing is known of any but two—John and Zachary. Nothing is known of the descendants of John, so the genealogists can present only the family tree as descended from the second Zachary, of whose descendants a goodly number are living to-day.

Among the families treated of in this genealogy, as being related to the Lewises, are these: The DuBreuil or Dibrell family, the Lee family, the Fearn family, the Cobbs family, the Meriwether family, the Boulton family, and the Estes family.

Because of lack of space, no further mention can be made of the genealogy of the Virginia Lewises and allied lines. But for a moderate fee, which will be made known on application, we will gladly give any information relating to these families. If you believe yourself connected with the prominent Lewis families of Virginia, write us. We may be able to trace back for you your genealogy.

GENEALOGY OF THE WILLIAM BROWN FAMILY

The genealogy of the descendants of William Brown, who with his wife, Christiana T. Brown, came to Philadelphia from Scotland in 1772, is one of the most complete genealogies in our hands.

According to the records, William Brown and wife followed the route of Braddock's Army, traversing Pennsylvania from Philadelphia to the western end of the State. They settled in what was known as Peter's Creek, Washington County, Pa., where they derived their living from the soil.

The children of William and Christiana Brown married into the neighboring families of Harbisons, McCas-lins and Murrays, some of whom they had known in Scot-land. Previous to 1800, these families bought lands in Butler county, Pa., and this was the home of the second and third generations of the William Brown family.

The Brown family and allied branches in those days were mainly farmers and mechanics. Many of the William Brown descendants, even to the seventh generation, are still living on the Butler county lands, purchased by their ancestors before 1800. A section of the family has drifted to the west, spreading out through Missouri, Iowa, Mississippi, etc.

For a reasonable amount, we will supply available data to any believing themselves connected to the William Brown family. We have on record between 700 and 800 names belonging to this family.

UNCLAIMED DIVIDEND BOOK OF THE BANK OF ENGLAND

Containing the names and descriptions of the proprietors of unclaimed dividends on the Bank of England stock, and on all government funds and securities at the Bank of England, amounting to many millions of pounds sterling. Published by order of the court of directors of the Bank of England.

This invaluable book, dated 1805, has been out of print many years, and so far as we know, we are the only ones in the United States having a copy. The book refers to many thousands of persons to whom money is due on unclaimed dividends on bank stock and other funds. In many cases these unclaimed funds have accumulated for over a century, and are now immensely large. The book gives an entry of names, with descriptions, including the place of residence, profession or business, and date, and the number of dividends due.

If you believe that any of your connections or ancestors were entitled to dividends from the Bank of England, which they never received, communicate with us at once. On payment of a fee of five dollars, we will search these records and give you such information of interest to you as we may obtain from the book.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ADVERTISEMENTS

The nearest Relations of Catherine Colville (Mother of Thomas Colville) of the Names of Stot, Wills, Richardson and Smith, are desired to take Notice, that,

The Administration of the Estate of Cole Thomas Colville, late of Fairfax County, in Virginia, being now closed, it appears by the Settlement that there is a Balance in my Hands of Nine Hundred and Thirty-two Pounds Seventeen Shillings and Seven Pence Three Farthings Current Money of Virginia, (Dollars at Six Shillings) which by the Will of Cole Colville is to be divided among the nearest Relations of his Mother, Catherine Colville, of the Name of Stot, Wills, Richards and Smith. Not choosing to take upon myself a Decision of the various Claims to this Legacy, I have filed a Bill in the High Court of Chancery, to bring the several Claimants into that Court for a Discussion of their Claims. In this Suit the customary Order has been made, where the Parties or any of them reside out of the State, which by the Laws of the State is equivalent to the Service of a Subpoena. Those who are interested will pay Attention to this Order, as a Neglect may bar their Claims. The Money is deposited in the Bank of Alexandria, and the Order of Court hereto subjoined.

Virginia, 25th July, 1796.

GEO. WASHINGTON.

VIRGINIA.

The Defendants Stott, Wills, Richardson and Smith, not having entered their Appearance and given Security, according to the Act of Assembly and the Rules of this Court; and it appearing to the Satisfaction of the Court that they are not Inhabitants of this Country, on the Motion of the Plaintiff by his Council it is ordered, that the said Defendants do appear here on the 1st Day of the next May Term, and answer the Bill of the Plaintiff; and that a Copy of this Order be forthwith inserted in some News Paper of the City of Richmond, and some Public Paper in the Kingdom of Great Britain, for two months successively, and posted at the Front of the Door of the Capital in the said City; and the Court doth further order that the Plaintiff do deposit in the Bank of Alexandria, to remain subject to the future Order of the Court, Nine Hundred and Thirty-two Pounds Seventeen Shillings and Seven-pence Three Farthings, admitted by his Bill to be in his Possession, of the Estate of Thomas Colville.
